The text is highly illustrated with complete presentations of worksheets, schedules, and financial statements so that students can see the development of each new topic.In the chapters covering consolidation subsequent to the date of combination, the three alternative methods of the parent company's accounting for the investment --basic equity, cost, and fully adjusted equity-- are presented in each chapter and appendices to provide the differences in the methods, and to see how the consolidated financial statements are the same regardless of the method the parent company uses to account for the investment. The two international chapters include a comprehensive discussion of accounting for foreign currency derivatives and other forms of derivatives such as interest swaps and options used in today's business arena. The governmental and not-for-profit chapters are comprehensive in their coverages of accounting and financial reporting for these entities, based on the most current GASB pronouncements.The text can be described as: (a) very comprehensive in coverage of advanced accounting topics, (b) extensively illustrated with worksheets and other learning tools, (c) clearly written for students' learning, (d) a very large variety of end-of-chapter materials for homework selections, and (e) current and complete in its coverage of accounting and reporting standards from the FASB and the GASB. This textbook, originally by D. Annand and H. Dauderis, was intended for a first course in introductory financial accounting. It focuses on core introductory financial accounting topics that match pre-requisite requirements for students advancing to Intermediate Financial Accounting. A corporate approach is utilized versus beginning with a sole proprietorship emphasis and then converting to a corporate approach; this consistency throughout the book reduces confusion for the introductory student. This most recent revision by D. Marchand converted the text from IFRS to reflect the Generally Accepted Accounting Principles of the United States (U.S. GAAP).
