This book examines how language is a central resource in transforming migrant women into transnational domestic workers. Focusing on the migration of women from the Philippines to Singapore, the book unpacks why and how language is embedded in the infrastructure of transnational labor migration that links migrant-sending and migrant-receiving countries. It sheds light on the everyday lives of transnational domestic workers and how they draw on their linguistic repertoires, and in particular on English, as they cross geographical and social spaces. By showing how the transnational mobility of labor is dependent on the selection and performance of particular assemblages of linguistic resources that index migrants as labor and not as people, the book provides a powerful lens with which to examine how migration contributes to relationships of inequality and how such inequalities are produced and challenged on the terrain of language.

PISA Take the Test Sample Questions from OECD's PISA Assessments

L'enseignement agricole est le plus méconnu de tous les enseignements. Cette étude sociologique pallie en partie cette méconnaissance en retraçant l'histoire de l'enseignement agricole depuis 1848 jusqu'à nos jours. Met l'accent sur les évolutions institutionnelles, scolaires et politiques qui ont bouleversé le paysage de la formation agricole à partir de 1981.

This book presents all the publicly available questions from the PISA surveys. Some of these questions were used in the PISA 2000, 2003 and 2006 surveys and others were used in developing and trying out the assessment.
