Gollancz is very proud to present the author's definitive editions of the saga of Elric, the last emperor of Melniboné. Michael Moorcock and his long-time friend and bibliographer John Davey have collaborated to produce the most consistent and coherent narrative from the disparate novels, novellas, short stories and non-fiction about Elric. From his early life in Melniboné all the way through to his final days, these seven volumes will be the definitive telling of the albino prince's story. Elric is one of the great creations of modern fantasy, and has inspired legions of imitators. If you know his story already, then this definitive edition will finally let you read the entire saga in the author's preferred order. If you've never experienced the chronicles of the albino with the soul-sucking sword, then this is the perfect place to start.

Starting from the premise that each of us really is a plaything of forces beyond our control, Bill Braine twists the universe into a helium balloon animal, runs it over when it tries to cross a rural highway at night, inhales its dying vapor and dictates a bunch of stories into a tape recorder in the resulting cartoonishly high voice. In these eight stories, five skits and one epic poem we meet a vaguely familiar mix of cranks, complainers, ditherers, idealists and paranoiacs. Unfortunately for Braine's characters, their world really IS out to get them. Fortunately for us, we can sit in our comfiest chair and laugh while they squirm. Good luck, guys!

Reproduction of the original: Christmas Eve and Christmas Day, Ten Christmas Stories by Edward E. Hale

Presents the work of more than fifty notable Jewish writers from a dozen countries and from the mid-nineteenth century to the present, including Sholem Aleichem, Isaac Bashevis Singer, and Cynthia Ozick

Dr. John Thorndyke is a medical jurispractioner, originally a medical doctor, he turned to the bar and became one of the first, in modern parlance, forensic scientists. His solutions are based on his method of collecting all possible data (including dust and pond weed) and making inferences from them before looking at any of the protagonists and motives in the crimes.
