Prayer is a privilege that God has given to His children. We can talk to our heavenly father directly and receive answers. The attitude of many Christians shows that they do not believe that God really answers prayer. But why pray if you will not get results? If you look closely at Scriptures which speak about prayer, you will discover that Jesus did say that we might possibly get an answer to our prayers. He said that we would get an answer. "We do not worship the sun, the moon or the rivers. We worship a living God who has the power to save and to deliver!" says Dag Heward-Mills. The first step is to pray yourself and the next important step is to pray to the Father because Jesus was directing us to pray to the heavenly father when he is no longer with his disciples. According to the writer the third vital step is to use the name of Jesus because God will respond when he hears the name of His son. In this book Dag Heward-Mills gives the most important steps when praying.

Behold, He Cometh is an essay-style commentary on the much disputed book of Revelation. By careful exegesis, the author gives a solidly Reformed, amillennial interpretation of scripture. This book sets forth in clear, concise language the comforting truths concerning the end times.

Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth, II Timothy 2:15I knew Teryila Solomon Addi as a young convert in Gboko more than two decades ago. He was quite zealous for the things of God and has maintained that fervency to date. Little did I know though that he was going to commit his life to the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ to the magnitude we are seeing today! We give all glory to God. We have many in the Church today, though educated in the things of God but show or take no interest in reading. This is nonchalance. Reverend Addi has challenged the church to sit up, to store scriptures by heart and to keep scriptures at the finger tips. He attempted to break the scriptures into smaller "chewable" bits. Thy word have I hid in my heart that I may not sin against thee. In difficult times or moments of sorrow it is the word of God one remembers in one's heart that helps one. Our brother, in this book has taught one to study and to exercise ourselves in the knowledge of the scriptures. He has asked questions that will lead one to search the scriptures, simply put in his word "Chew the Word".I wish to recommend this write up to the house - hold of faith.GbileAkanniPeace House, Gboko'Chew the Word' is a help that will enable the reader get deep into the Old Testament of the Holy Bible.It is aimed at thoroughly passing through the Old Testament in different ways as evidenced in the Nine Chapters. The reader is expected to try supplying the answer before looking it up at the end of the Book. It is recommended for Bible students of all levels - the young, the old, generally Christians alike, who desire to go deep into the Word.During my early childhood, my father, at one time taught the children in the Sunday School. After teaching the day's lessons, he would ask questions and reward children who got the right answers as a form of stimulation and encouragement. Little did I know then that as I, among other kids struggled to answer Daddy's questions, traces of burden for this work began to impress on my heart. On growing up, I was called to ministry first in the Para-Church and now the Church. While working with students of secondary school level and later the University in Nigeria and along the West African Coast, I discovered a gross inadequacy in knowledge of the Scriptures. Now in the Church I see the same thing among congregations of children, youth and even adults. Living and interacting with people of other faiths, I observed that they handle more seriously the words of their scriptures and also zealously hand it down to subsequent generations for continuity. In Christianity however, this may not be the case (my opinion). These cumulative burdens over time brought me to the stage which by God's grace, I trusted Him to enable me prepare such a material which will not only be handy, easy to understand, but attractive and draw the reader into the presence of God through its realities. I have also discovered through the years that some preachers ask rhetoric questions as they preach and most of the time no answers are supposed to be expected or given. Studying the Fill in the Gap section will help the reader to find ready answers for some occasions. The True or False section and the Direct Questions mostly would help people struggling to get some Biblical truths as found in the references here. The Context Questions are meant to stimulate the reader into deeper meditation on the Word and to some extent analyze or synthesize the concerned scripture. Characteristics of people and places have been carefully chosen so as to give the reader first hand tips about the character concerned. This I believe will help readers even in daily personal or group devotion as regard character studies. I also believe that one can consciously recite scriptures in bits. I have deliberately included this portion

This book is a daring and no-holds-barred description of the false teachings and dangerous trends that have sent much of the Nigerian Church off course over the past four decades. Gary Maxey is joined by Peter Ozodo in describing four major threats to Christian orthodoxy that are threatening the orthodoxy of Nigerian Christianity. The first is the unbalanced Prosperity Gospel that is shown to be an import from the scripturally unbalanced American Word of Faith movement. The second is the revival of African Traditional Religion within the Church. The third threat is a subtle redefining of Christian spirituality, moving away from sound foundations in biblical morality. The fourth threat is the contemporary Hyper Grace movement, found in the teachings of Singapore's Joseph Prince and a host of American imitators. All four of these threats have become deeply entrenched in various sectors of the Nigerian Church. With a powerful Introduction by Gbile Akanni, this book is a must-read by every Nigerian pastor, as well as discerning lay people. Maxey and Ozodo not only point out the problems but they point to clear solutions. Their conviction is that before we can expect a national spiritual revival in Nigeria we must first see a clear reformation in which these and other errors are clearly dealt with.

Christianity has revealed the secret that psychologists have long sought--the "inward soul," the re-created spirit, the focus of God's great redemptive work on earth. The four Gospels give us a wonderful picture of the lonely man of Galilee, the humble Messiah who ends His earthly walk on Calvary. But Paul's Epistles give us the risen triumphant One, the conqueror of death, sin, and Satan. He provides the

Our common sense, the U.S. Constitution and Declaration of Independence, and our foundations of faith are under severe attack! This has compelled Kevin McGary to write about what he observes as a new era of illogical and completely irrational agendas dominating current U.S. government leadership. McGary presents a refreshing voice with compelling evidence that speaks to how 'we the people,' through 'blind trust' and lack of involvement, may have been wholly complicit in supporting the erosion of rights, liberties, and freedoms. He contends, collective zeal for a new era of 'hope and change' has prompted irrational support for government leadership made up of charismatic personalities grounded in the strategic use of masterful rhetoric infused with intellectual dishonesty, and devoid of substance needed to move the country forward. Through thoughtful analysis presented from multiple vantage points, McGary illuminates why and how a state of instant and selective insanity has permeated the current political spectrum. McGary is an African American with strong roots in voting democratic, and is a member of the NAACP. He confirms that while current party platforms and progressive agendas for healthcare, education and abortion have provided lofty rhetoric for the Democratic Party, they actually result in debilitating and oppressive social agendas and schemes that only perpetuate further enslavement of the 'under-privileged' and 'under-served!' He presents evidence confirming the actual social justice foundations proclaimed by our forefathers: 'life, liberty, and pursuit of happiness,' and their human rights proclamation: 'liberty and justice for all,' are even further undermined by current 'new era' politicians at the expense of the progressive agenda. In the end, McGary contends the U.S suffers from a lack of leadership in that there is a lack of competence and general lack of experience in the current administration. This has lead to a significant erosion of the primary foundations that have facilitated our history of success! Undermining of faith foundations and the U.S. Constitution and Declaration of Independence threatens to propel the country back into the state of oppression and tyranny it fled when becoming an independent nation. Needless to say, supporting this cycle is irrational and illogical. Doing the same things over again yet expecting different results, is Alert Einstein's definition of insanity. My first encouragement today is that never get familiar with what God is doing in this place. When you become familiar with anything, you commonize it and it stops blessing you. When you become familiar with anything at all, you lose the anointing, you lose the grace, you lose the efficacy in that thing. There is something the holy spirit is doing and it is important for us to study what he's doing in our lives. Don't just get caught up. Many of us have incorporated this day in our activities and once it's Friday we know that it's time for koinonia even when it may not mean so much to us. I really want us to understand that God is doing something. If we do not understand this, it'll be difficult for us to submit to the dealings and the teachings of the spirit. These teachings are supposed to build us up. It's a programming, it's producing something out of our lives. God is making objects of praise out of our lives. Although this is like a factory, there is a making process and if you stay on course, not even you can stop what you'll become. Pray your way to health and wholeness Based on Pastor Prince's teaching on the Holy Communion, this new prayer guide will help readers put their faith into action when it comes to their health. Day by day, Pastor Prince highlights simple, specific Scriptures you can pray to help increase your faith and partake of the benefits Jesus purchased on the cross. Learn to walk with God, commune with the Holy Spirit, and meditate on the finished work of Jesus. Then watch His peace and power reign in your life. Be encouraged and start walking in a greater measure of health today!

Economic growth has been extremely robust following the country's discovery of oil in 2007, reaching well into the double-digits and driving a boom in consumption and investment. As a result of its recent economic surge and stable environment, investment levels have continued to rise, as companies both foreign and domestic are eager to capitalise on the country's wealth of natural resources and growing middle class. There have been challenges, as public spending comes under pressure and commodity exports remain exposed to exogenous shocks, but the economy's fundamentals are encouraging.
