Ling Yiran had been sentenced to three years in prison due to the car accident that killed the fiancée of Yi Jinli, the richest man in Shen City. When released from prison, she somehow ended up catching the attention of Yi Jinli. She kneeled on the ground and begged him, "Yi Jinli, can you let me go?" But he only smiled and said, "Sister, I will never let you go." It was said that Yi Jinli was completely indifferent to anyone and everyone, but for some reason, he did everything he could to please a sanitation worker girl who had been in prison for the past three years. However, the truth of the car accident that year had robbed her of all her love for him, and she ran away. Many years later, he begged her while on the ground, "Yiran, as long as you return by my side, I will do anything for you." But she only stared at him coldly and said, "Then, go die."

Lance and that blue Peterbilt that he calls "Girlfriend" continue to drive through this beautiful country. This past winter season he's been stranded on more than one occasion in many different areas of the country. This time allows him to delve further in his writings. Stories come to life in Whispered Words as he gains new perspective in his writing passion. Although Lance loves his poetry, he has started a new adventure in writing. Stories in short form filled with action, suspense, and romance are being consumed by his test readers. Book four, A Mile of Time is filled with heart-wrenching words. He hopes you enjoy all his books and look forward to book five as this will be the start of his new short story series.

Whispering Winds and Ministering Fires is a collection of inspirational verse by accomplished writer and lyricist Joan Caldwell. Many times through the years, the author found herself awakened, awestruck, by an overflow of verse. Or, she would be working on lyrics for a song or poem and suddenly be pulled in another direction. She would then write down her inspirations as fast as she could before another came to mind. The poems in Whispering Winds and Ministering Fires came to her, one after another, until the book was complete. In writing these verses, Joan has found understanding, knowledge, wisdom, and faith that she would like to share with you in this collection.

For the reader, this book could be a journey into the author's mind, his heart and sometimes even his soul--full of defining moments--a peek into the man he's becoming. And for him, this is a journey that began and remained in a dream for nearly 40 years. Not quite awake, not quite asleep, but definitely and always--present. The journals that were the landscapes he painted with words of passion, of love or fury, but never indifference--were also the buffers that allowed an intensely private young man full and safe expression. A few of the poems he shares are simply whimsical. Their substance may be felt like the fluffy feathers of a down pillow. Something soft and cool to lay your head on and feel pleasantly OK. For him though, most of his poetry feels and looks like the rings of a once handsome, but rugged tree. Not cut down, but only momentarily exposed so as to share--not its own, but nature's history and gifts of beauty. The author begs the reader's indulgence in allowing him the outpouring of his bilingual spirit on some of these pages. The inspiration that flows may look like a florescent yellow cactus flower in a sea of white Spring lilies, but where the heart goes, the pen just follows. Like this book, he has opened himself up and invites any who will dare to meander through his sometimes quirky imagination. Now, no more the guarded, reserved dreamer, but a wiser optimist and a realist--at least every other Tuesday. No teacher is he, as the majestic brother Wolf, but the mythical Coyote prankster whose many plans and schemes often cause him to flail and fall only to get back up and try again to sometimes succeed in the light of his efforts. Dear reader, this book is his way of giving thanks and giving back by sharing with complete abandon, for all the pleasures and sorrows, and even each breath we take for granted.

Poetry is so personal. It is hard to convince readers to take the time to feel the words, not just read them. The Eighth Wonder of the World presents something we all possess and don't realize its value. So for this fifth book, The Twelfth Wonder of the World, to resonate with the buyer/reader, a love of poetry will initially be the reason it sells. After that, it will be the value to each reader as they capitalize on the wonders we all possess. The series of Wonders of the World poems are to relate all humans on Earth to a common denominator. The mind (eight wonder) and the soul (ninth wonder) are our human metaphysical commonalties, whereas the heart (tenth wonder) and the brain (the eleventh wonder) are physical commonalties to all of us as individuals. And finally, the spirit (twelfth wonder), our infinite energy, is what each of us are metaphysically, for the infinite trip from here to there, the final wonder. Developing Healthy Self-Esteem and Confidence

Loving You Is Easy - Loving Me Is Hard!

For as long as she could remember, her life has always been in turmoil. With a drug abusing mother and an abusive step father, Sophie, an intelligent, pretty girl, has a desire to escape the hell that her life has become. She successfully hides her scars from the world, but keeps them close to her hardened heart. Trained by the best, Sophie has a short fuse and the skills of a trained killer. Often finding herself unable to tame the monster within, she is tempted by the dark side more times than she can count. Unfortunate circumstances occur in her life, which threaten to pull the darkness that she strives to keep buried deep inside to the surface. Once that darkness is free, Sophie is unable to recapture it to lock it away. Traumatized by her abusive childhood, haunting memories fuel her inability to love. But soon, Sophie finds her inability to feel challenged when she meets an irresistible man that gives her a glimpse of what falling in love could mean for her life. Stunned by the amount of love that she feels for him, she is finally ready to open her heart and experience true love. Unfortunately for Sophie, life never goes that smoothly for her. Her overbearing, overprotective stepfather has plans for her life that do not include her falling in love. The secrets from her past that she has been harboring have a horrifying hold on her and refuse to remove their grip from her life. Driven by love, lies and murder, she finds herself making decisions that could, in the end cause her to lose everything, when the past comes knocking on her door. She has choices to make. Choices that could either pull her towards love, or pull her deeper into the darkness.

Remember ME Always is a poetry collection that permits a peek inside the window of Ayanna Guyton's world of words. Yana's life experiences worked to inspire her and inform. Her writing presents a fervent, vivacious view of life. Sometimes sympathetic other times, amusing she offers something for everyone via her many flavors of prose. During her life, Yana wrote with sheer excitement, attempting to inspire and motivate. Her words aim to uplift and give hope. She possessed the ability to connect with people, so Remember ME Always portrays that connection and her love for life, people, and animals. Daily, she nurtured her capacity to find love all around her and inspire that love in others, as well. Her poems bridge the mind of a child through adulthood. These compiled works introduce the early writings of a seven-year-old through to the discoveries of a young woman. Her poems are sprinkled with perceptiveness, free of inhibition, and offer delight and pleasure. Remember ME Always takes readers on a journey a journey to revisit again and again.

A stripped-down testimony to the hardships one man faces and the origins from which they came, Reflections from the Inside is a raw expression of depression, abuse, and perseverance. Written from his bunk behind the bars of an Ohio jail cell, this collection of poetry captures the details of Eric Allen's journey from traumatized youth, to mentor and coach, to inmate. It is an artistic onslaught of emotion. The highs are as bountiful as the lows as Eric Allen reflects on his life and how he's ended up here.

This book contains two chapbooks of poetry. Falling into Place takes you through the course of a romance that is destined to fail. Starting from the butterflies that come with falling in love and ending with the sinking of the heart that comes with a break up. Same Beach Every Time tells the story of struggles with work, school, and personal life; escaping it by sending the mind back to the same beach in Southern California. While the poetry is personal to the author, the reader might find comfort in these situations a lot of people can relate to.

Exposed is written for the expressed purpose to get you out of your comfort level and expose the place where you're most vulnerable. Intended to speak truth into that dark space hidden from view.

Voices of the heart is a collection of poems and lyrical bits of real life emotions, pains, joys, moments and dreams captured in words. This collection of poetry spans over 45 years. I wrote my first poem as I can recall when I was but a teenager. I, remember seeing some beautiful red birds in the trees, it was a thing of beauty and in those day, I did not have a camera. Through the years as things touched my heart are bothered me I wrote about them. At that time, I only wrote about it so I can remember it and had no inkling of composing a book poetry, but after writing so many poems through the years of my good and bad experiences and now that I'm retired and live in the woods by the lake and sits on my porch much of the time it came into my spirit and I decided to clean some of my bits up and put them together for everyone who wish to share them. I call my collection Voices of the Heart. This collection of poems concerns mostly my life for the last 45 years through the joys, pains and strife two marriages, six meaningful relationships, six children, four different women, undergraduate and graduate degrees from two colleges one is south and one in the Midwests and having reside in three states. My life has always been a journey never a destination. I am about 60 now, my thoughts are still beyond the familiar. I often think about getting my doctorate degrees, build a house in the mountains and making more memories. I cherish every fleeting moment and appreciate life like its no tomorrow, every day.

When corresponding with sweet, classy Brooke, Shane Develen instinctively hides his commando tattoos and blue-collar roots—and he can tell that she's hiding something, too. Morsels Of Musings is a compilation of poems on the world around us. There are poems on flowers and trees; on Celeste, Sol and stars; on love and romance, that special someone who makes life worth living; on life with its multi faceted emotions with an imploration to live and 'seize the day'. Some poems are of the senses, some that reach the heart and some that will tickle the funny bone. Poetry written with a flair, different from the brazen literature of today, written with respect for the English language and arts. Larry has a secret life. Burdened with fear and deep feelings of inadequacy, this married father of two young children sustains himself, like he has since his teens, by exhibiting (flashing). For Larry, living is a contest, a challenge beyond his basic responsibilities. The story is Larry's life from age 29 to 35 with flashbacks to his childhood. In Larry's struggle with sexual compulsion we see the universality of his fear and frailty. "This is a very moving account of sexual compulsion and how sexual addicts deal with impulses apparently beyond their control. It is a gripping story, which will make a significant contribution to our understanding of this enormously troublesome topic that goes far beyond "exhibitionism" per se." -Alan Bell, Ph.D. (1932-2002), Former Professor in the Department of Counseling and Psychology at Indiana University. Former Senior Research Psychologist at the Kinsey Institute for Sex Research.
