The sheikh will have her—no matter what the price! When Australian supermodel Charmaine donates herself as a prize at a charity auction, the winning bidder is Prince Ali of Dubar. Now she has to be his dinner partner—he's paid five million dollars for the privilege! The Prince Ali makes her another outrageous offer: five hundred million dollars to be paid to her favorite charity if she agrees to spend a week with him. But Ali isn't paying for just her company...he's paying for her to grace his bed!

Laila Tindall is only in Raihan to hone her pottery skills and visit her ailing grandfather. Marriage was never in the picture. But when her grandfather is tricked into signing a binding marriage contract to a man she finds repugnant, she has one choice: Run away. Her flight ends with a fortuitous meeting with Zayid Hasan, Crown Prince of Raihan, who offers the perfect solution to Laila's predicament: marry him and solve both their problems. Zayid's younger brother must marry his pregnant fiancé, and ancient laws dictate the oldest brother is required to marry first. Desperate for a way to protect both her grandfather and herself, Laila agrees. After all, their marriage will last only until Zayid's brother can marry—and her marriage to the brooding, handsome prince isn't much of a sacrifice. It's not like she's going to be foolish enough to fall in love.. Zayid doesn't know what to think about his new half-American wife. He doesn't really want to think about her at all, but for some reason, he can't stop himself. Strangely enough, all the royal functions that used to bore him silly are now entertaining with Laila by his side—even though he knows she'd much rather be alone creating her art. Though the marriage of convenience was his idea, he can't help but start to wish it was the real deal. No way can he ignore the simmering chemistry that's driving them both a bit crazy. He's much better at ignoring what's in his heart—until he realizes it just might break if he can't convince Laila to stay with him forever...

Sheikh Malik Hourani, Crown Prince of Bha'Khar,is a rich and powerful man dedicated to ruling hiskingdom—but experience has made him wary of love. Beth Farrah has been betrothed to the sheikhsince birth, but she has a secret! She's not the woman hethinks she is...

Ancient law dictates that Sheikh Fatim Safar has to marry or be disinherited by his 30th birthday. Fatim isn't worried—he married years earlier and had two children with his wife before she died. But there's a catch: the law states he must be married at age 30. Two weeks from his 30th birthday, there's no time to change it or fight it...it's more expedient to marry. Calla Clark is out to prove her parents wrong. Instead of marrying well like her mother wanted, Calla's in the Middle East to prove her design prowess. And what better way to do that then becoming seamstress for the royal family and getting to drape fabric over the sexy Sheikh's rock-hard body. She can't act on her temptations, of course. She's got goals to crush. Still, when she watches the way the Sheikh commands his tribe, and cares for his kids, she can't help but feel an undeniable attraction. Fatim has taken a liking to Calla, too. She's smart, thoughtful, and good with his children. With his birthday right around the corner, Fatim offers her the position as his wife. It's only temporary, and in return for marrying him and helping with his children, he'll give her everything she needs for the upcoming Fashion Week. Calla agrees...so long as he helps keep her dream alive. With so many differences between them, Fatim and Calla's powerful pairing could raise the tribe up to modern heights, or send it to the bin like last season's cast-offs. This novel contains sexual content and profanity.

With her mother dead, Zainab now lives with her father, doing everything she can to win his approval—even if that means marrying a man she's never met. Though she's willing to wed for the sake of the tribe, she secretly doesn't believe it's much of a sacrifice, given that the one she would be marrying, Khalid bin Salam, is one of the most handsome and charming men she's ever met. At first,

Khalid is resistant to the idea of an arranged marriage. And then he meets Zainab, and the idea of marrying a stranger is a bit more appealing. He likes her American ways, her lovely smile, her beautiful curves. But Javeed is determined to keep them apart, pulling every string he can reach to ensure each day passes without them seeing each other. That still leaves the nights... And as their passion builds, their marriage seems less arranged and more like destiny. If only Javeed could see what's best for his tribe and his daughter.
