Catechetical Sessions on Liturgy and the Sacraments begins by familiarizing participants with the nature of liturgy and the liturgical introduction to the properties of signs, symbols, and rituals sets the groundwork for studying individual sacraments. Four sessions cover the sacraments of initiation, two sessions cover the sacrament of Anointing of the Sick, and the final session covers the sacrament of Communion. The sessions share some of the history of the sacraments, their meaning, the significance of symbols, and the nature of the sacraments. The participants are invited to actively study the sacraments, to make connections between the sacraments and their own lives, to pray prayerfully on the meaning of the sacraments, and to take some sacrament-related actions.

A biography of the priest, historian and supporter of social reform, now remembered as the author of The Water Babies.

In My Life of Ministry, Writing, Teaching, and Traveling: The Autobiography of an Old Mines Missionary, I present my life as a young man growing up in a French village about sixty miles south of St. Louis in the middle of the twentieth century. After eighteen years of life in the oldest settlement in the state of Missouri, I moved to St. Louis for four years and then to St. Meinrad, Indiana, for four years. I opened my eyes to a world very much larger than my village of origin. Life continued for me after ordination as a priest in the Catholic Church in Springfield and Joplin, Missouri. Because my life is the thread stitching together this book, I have made it manageable by dividing it into four categories: ministry, writing, teaching, and travel. These categories contain the stories of others whose life threads are woven into my lifetime tapestry. This is my autobiography—one of a missionary from Old Mines to the thirty-nine counties in the southern third of the state of Missouri—composed during my seventieth year of life.

An excellent supplement to Confirmation for teens, My Confirmation Journal is a wonderful resource and a treasured companion for any teen going through confirmation preparation. Besides providing young people with the space for personal journaling, it also includes insightful questions, reflections, and illustrations that help teens define themselves and understand their own spirituality. My Confirmation Journal is more than a learning tool for young people, it is also a confidential personal record of their thoughts and perspectives as they develop and mature throughout life's great journey.

One of the great classics of prison literature, Letters and Papers from Prison effectively serves as the last will and testament of the Lutheran theologian Dietrich Bonhoeffer. Dietrich Bonhoeffer was a young German pastor who was executed by the Nazis in 1945 for his part in the "officers' plot" to assassinate Adolf Hitler. This expanded version of Letters and Papers from Prison shifts the emphasis of earlier editions of Bonhoeffer's theological reflections to the private sphere of his life. His letters appear in greater detail and show his daily concerns. Letters from Bonhoeffer's parents, siblings, and other relatives have also been added, in addition to previously inaccessible letters and legal papers referring to his trial. Acute and subtle, warm and perceptive, yet also profoundly moving, the documents collectively tell a very human story of loss, of courage, and of hope. Bonhoeffer's story seems as vitally relevant, as politically prophetic, and as theologically significant today, as it did yesterday.

Confirmation was an important part of the life of the eighteenth-century church which consumed a significant part of the time of bishops, of clergy in their preparation of candidates, and of the candidates themselves in terms of a transition in their Christian life. Yet it has been almost entirely overlooked by scholars. This book aims to fill this void in our understanding, and offers an important contribution and correction of our understanding of the life of the church during the long eighteenth century in both Britain and North America. Tovey addresses two important historical debates: the 'pessimist/optimist' debate on the character and condition of the Church of England in the eighteenth century; and the debate on the 're-enchantment' of the eighteenth century which challenges the secular nature of society in the age of the Enlightenment. Drawing on new developments of the study of visitation returns and episcopal life and on primary research in historical records, Anglican Confirmation goes behind the traditional Tractarian interpretations to uncover the understanding and confidence of the eighteenth-century church in the rite of confirmation. The book will be of interest to eighteenth-century church historians, theologians and liturgists alike.

With thousands of known suicides taking place in the United States each year, it is very possible you have already been touched. In Healing the Wound from My Daughter's Suicide, author Lois Severson shares the true story of how her family was deeply affected by the tragedy of suicide. She tells the story of the suicide of her twenty-six-year-old daughter Patty in June of 2005. Severson recalls a personal journey through the grief from the perspective of the mother, father, and sister of the victim. She also includes Patty's suicide letter and selected diary entries and addresses the perspective of mental illness and its role in suicides. Raw and emotional, Healing the Wound from My Daughter's Suicide provides keen insight into family dynamics following the suicide of a loved one. It shows how one family navigated the grief and healing process and found comfort through their community, from within the family, and through their faith in God.

Christopher Wesley is on the front lines of youth ministry. He's been in the parish trenches, refocusing an unpopular youth program and creating a place where teens feel connected, stay involved, and grow in faith. In Rebuilding Youth Ministry, Wesley offers ten indispensable strategies to make your youth programs just as successful. Wesley coaches fellow Catholic ministry leaders on how to overcome common hurdles of ministry with young people. Wesley shares how he faced feelings of complacency, underestimated youth, and entertained rather than ministered in his own parish. He built a distinctive program based on small group faith formation and sustained it with the assistance of more than sixty volunteer adult leaders. Wesley lays out ten strategies that helped grow participation in his high school program from nine teens to ninety and the middle school program from twenty teens to eighty-five, including: Making your youth program about more than pizza; Pursuing authentic relationships between small group members; Shaping a dynamic youth ministry team; and Creating a space that's welcoming to teens.
